THE CHILDREN'S PAVILION

DIRECTORS' REPORT

DECEMBER, 1919

THE Twenty-ninth Annual Report is now offered to the public. It would seem hardly necessary to reiterate in detail the importance of an institution the work of which has become so well known and the necessity for which is well recognized everywhere. Suffice it to say, therefore, that the number of applications during the past year has far exceeded that of any previous year, many women having been denied the privilege of entering simply because of lack of room.

The following tribute to the work at Sharon has recently been received and is offered as a gratifying proof of the influence which the Sanatorium has had in distant lands where similar institutions have been established.

In a recent letter from Mrs. Edward C. Post, of Newport, R. I., whose admirable work in the past two or three years in Brittany is widely known, she thus alludes to the Sharon Sanatorium:

"When I went to Finistère, those [tuberculous patients] who could not go to an altitude or a warm climate, prepared to die at the hospital without any attempt to recover. Morlaix is called 'le puit de la tuberculose.' With its narrow valley always full of fog, morning and evening, and lack of drainage, it is not an encouraging outlook for recovery. But the nurses had heard of Sharon, and a Mrs. Ewing, and others, and books, had told of your effort to cure, in any climate, and so, to prove it, I bought Porsmeur, situated on the hill but in the town of Morlaix. Needless to say, what had been proved at Sharon proved true in France as well. . . . In France they say, 'L'idée, c'est la force éternelle,' and Sharon has it and holds it. We all owe an unbounded gratitude for the conception of such a place."

Until very recently, the means of meeting the tuberculosis problem in France among the very poor have been lamentably insufficient when compared with those in other countries. It is therefore most gratifying to learn that the results at Sharon have been the means of stimulating others in foreign lands to cure tuberculosis in a climate formerly thought to be most unfavorable to recovery.

The advantages to be found now at the Sanatorium by the recent establishment of the Children's Pavilion with its open-air school are slowly but steadily becoming more noticeable as the work develops. A graduate patient formerly connected with the Norwood Public Schools, who recovered her health at the Sanatorium, now acts as teacher for the children. Another graduate, moreover, is now installed as the efficient head nurse for this department, and everything points to the ultimate success of this new departure in the policy of the Directors. The public, however, has not been sufficiently educated as to the importance of placing delicate children of tuberculous tendency in such surroundings. More and more we are coming to recognize that tuberculosis begins in childhood, remaining latent, frequently to burst forth in adult life. The importance of procuring the best hygienic conditions for such cases, therefore, can hardly be overestimated, and the new Pavilion is preeminently fitted for this purpose. The remarkable improvement — physical, mental, and moral — in the children who have already been there, is one of the most striking and encouraging features of this addition to the Sanatorium. The mere presence of children, moreover, has added to the cheerfulness of the whole institution.

The following letters from two former patients and another from a prominent physician of Boston are of interest:

"I again enjoy the excellent health that has been mine since the good old days at Sharon, where we all learned to take such good care of ourselves. I am sure that no one can ever forget the kind and tender care that is given to every one who goes to the 'San,' and I, for one, shall never cease to be grateful."

"It is six years ago today I went to Sharon. I have not forgotten how much you did for me at that time. Enclosed find $10 towards the Sharon work, and I hope to send something each year.

"I continue to keep very well and am at my desk each day and have been for nearly two years now, with vacations, of course. We are working here with the tuberculous soldiers of Canada, and I find it interesting.

"I see the annual reports of the Sharon Sanatorium and am always interested to look them over."

"The little boy, John, who went to Sharon three months ago, has just been in to see me and I am so much impressed with the transformation in him that I feel I must write you my appreciation of what you have done for him at Sharon. When I sent him to you he was a poorly developed, sallow, listless child. Now he is a robust boy with rosy cheeks and simply bubbling over with vitality. His alertness in comparison with his previous apathy strikes me particularly. I am also interested in the new point of view which it is apparent that his short stay at Sharon has given him. He has never previously had any contact with nature and his enthusiasm over the country and the good times which he had there are very pleasing. I only wish the people who are in a position to put Sharon on its feet financially could see as I have in this case the striking illustration of what it can do for such children. I am,

Very sincerely yours,

EDWIN A. LOCKE."

The problem of meeting the increased expenses of the Sanatorium is becoming more and more serious. The increased price of board, which seems to have been met without apparent hardship to any one, is far from sufficient, however, to meet the annual deficit due to the high cost of living. The Directors, therefore, are obliged still to make the most earnest appeals for assistance in their work. They have no hesitation in doing so, in spite of the many calls upon a generous public, because of the vital importance of employing every known method for controlling this universal and insidious disease.

The Directors are obliged to record with deep regret the death, during the past year, of a generous friend and a member of the Corporation, Mr. Arthur F. Estabrook, whose aid and cordial interest in the work has been always deeply appreciated.

They wish to express their sincere thanks to all who have given aid to the Sanatorium during the past year.

As usual, the Press of Boston have been very generous in calling the attention of the people to the work.

Money for the following purposes is required:

To meet the annual deficit;

For the Endowment Fund, now amounting to about $45,000;

For the establishment of "memorial funds," the income from which shall be used to defray expenses or to aid worthy women and children;

For the maintenance of the Roentgen Ray Department, a now very important feature of the work at Sharon;

Twenty-five hundred dollars to establish a much-needed refrigerating plant, which would be labor saving as well as a source of economy.
